Course Overview: This course is designed to introduce you to disaster recovery. Recovery, or the process by which a community returns to normalcy in the wake of a disturbance, is one of the least studied phases of emergency management, but the phase where interest and research is growing the fastest. Throughout this semester, we will explore key concepts and theories related to disaster recovery, how different units (communities, individuals, organizations, etc…) recover, how we measure recovery, roles and responsibilities of the recovery process, as well as other key issues from the recovery phase of the emergency management cycle.

Learning Objectives and Outcomes
1. To consider the various ways we define recovery and the implications underlying each definition.
2. To discuss the core concepts and theories we use to understand the disaster recovery process.
3. To understand the key perspectives, priorities, and responsibilities of major stakeholders and organizations in disaster recovery.
4. To comprehend the different ways researchers measure recovery.
5. To explore the relationship between recovery, vulnerability, sustainability, and resilience.
6. To identify major disaster recovery policies in the U.S.
7. To understand the linkages between recovery and the other phases of emergency management.

Required Texts:

Additional required readings are listed under the reading section at the end of this syllabus.

OSU E-Mail:
All official correspondence from course instructors will be sent only to students’ okstate.edu address.

Instructional Methods and Communication:
A web site has been set up specifically for this course at the OSU Desire2Learn web site. All course information, activities, and announcements will be posted on this site. Check the website regularly.
Assignments, Grading and Due Dates:

Class Attendance and Participation (15%) – This is a graduate seminar, and students should be learning from each other. This class will be primarily student led, and therefore, students need to be in class and participate unless it is absolutely necessary to miss.

Assignment 1: Questions about Weekly Readings (25%)

This is a graduate seminar, and students should be reading, comprehending, and critically evaluating research in the field of Disaster Recovery. Furthermore, graduate seminars thrive on a balance of discussion, rather than lecture. Each week, students will upload at least TWO questions (meant to jump start discussion) about the weekly readings. Preferably these questions will focus on the journal articles, rather than the textbook; however, the textbook may also provide for interesting discussion. Questions can center on the usefulness/reasonableness of theories, methodology, findings, discussion, etc. Questions can focus on one reading or span the boundaries of two or more of the weekly readings. Weekly questions should be deposited in each week’s Dropbox on D2L by 6 pm Sunday night.

Assignment 2: Literature Review (30%) Due 3/15/19

Choose one of the topics that we are discussing in this class this semester and write a comprehensive literature review. The idea is that you would use this literature review as the basis for your final paper. In this way, you would be completing the final project after having received feedback on the literature review earlier in the semester.

Assignment 3: Final Paper: Research Design OR Mini-Practicum (30%)*

Mini-Practicum

For this paper, students will submit a 13-18 page “mini-practicum” that focuses on one area of Disaster Recovery we discussed this semester. The purpose of a practicum is to demonstrate how what you have learned in the class can be applied in a realistic professional setting (i.e. fire department, emergency management agency, university, etc…). This might be the catalyst for your own final Practicum to finish your Master’s degree. In many cases, the mini-practicum for this class might look more like a practicum design, such that you are developing the theory and design of a practicum project, but not necessarily completing the entire project.

Research Design

For this assignment, each student will submit a 13-18 page research design. The research must be original and relevant to the topics in this class. A research design has all of the same elements of a full research paper, except you do not go through the actual data analysis. Elements of the paper include a comprehensive literature review, development of research questions and hypotheses, data sources, potential methods, and conclusions including the expected findings and merits of the research for theory development and practice.
Master’s Students may choose to write a Research Design or mini-Practicum, but PhD students must develop a Research Design.

Fall Semester Holidays
University Holiday 1/21/2019
Student’s Spring Break 3/18/2019-3/22/2019

DROPPING A COURSE AND WITHDRAWING FROM THE UNIVERSITY, students often confuse these terms.

Dropping a Course (or courses) may occur during the first twelve weeks of the semester. This means, however, that you are still enrolled in at least one other OSU course. Exceptions to the deadlines above may only be considered by petition due to documented extraordinary circumstances and committee approval. The Retroactive Drop/Withdraw Petition and the Petition for a Refund of Tuition and Fees forms are available on the Registrar’s website http://registrar.okstate.edu/Forms.

Withdrawing from the university means dropping all courses and you are no longer enrolled for the current semester. This may occur until the Friday before pre-finals week. The withdrawal process is initiated with your academic advisor. For additional information and dates, go to: http://academicaffairs.okstate.edu/content/adding-dropping-and-withdrawing-courses.

ALERTS AND RESCHEDULING
If the OSU campus officially closes due to inclement weather or other emergencies, alerts are provided to local news media and posted on the OSU website. Missed exams, classes, or assignments may be rescheduled at times outside the normal meeting schedule. If valid, documented circumstances prohibit students from attending the rescheduled classes, instructors should provide reasonable alternative means for makeup.

SEEK ANSWERS TO YOUR QUESTIONS
The OSU faculty and staff want you to be successful in your educational pursuits. If you have questions or concerns, seek help EARLY. We are here to assist you.

ACADEMIC INTEGRITY
101 Whitehurst/405-744-5627/http://academicintegrity.okstate.edu
OSU is committed to maintaining the highest standards of integrity and ethical conduct. This level of ethical behavior and integrity will be maintained in this course. Participating in a behavior that violates academic integrity (e.g., unauthorized collaboration, plagiarism, multiple submissions, cheating on examinations, fabricating information, helping another person cheat, unauthorized advance access to examinations, altering or destroying the work of others, and altering academic records) will result in an official academic sanction. Violations may subject you to disciplinary action including the following: receiving a failing grade on an assignment, examination or course, receiving a notation of a violation of academic integrity on your transcript, and being suspended from the University. You have the right to appeal the charge.

COPYRIGHT & FAIR USE POLICY OF COURSE MATERIALS
Course materials may not be published, leased, sold to others, or used for any purpose other than appropriate OSU-related individual or group study without the written permission of the faculty member in charge of the course and other copyright holders. This paragraph grants you a limited license giving you access to materials for this course, including PowerPoint slides, audio/video recordings, written, or other materials, for appropriate OSU-related educational use only. Lectures should not be recorded without permission from the faculty member and must not be further disseminated or shared.

CLASS ATTENDANCE
Class attendance is a critical component of learning; therefore, you are expected to attend and participate fully in all scheduled class meetings. Many instructors consider attendance so essential that your grade may be affected by your absence. SOME DEPARTMENTS AND PROFESSORS HAVE MANDATORY ATTENDANCE POLICIES. If no written attendance policy is provided before the last day to add a class without instructor permission, no penalty may be assessed for class absences although you may not be permitted to make up certain in-class activities. If you are required to participate in official university-sponsored activities or military training, you should receive an excused absence unless the written course attendance policy indicates otherwise. If you will be absent from class for sponsored activities, you must provide prior notification of the planned absence to the instructor. You may be required to submit assignments or take examinations before the planned absence.

PRE-FINALS WEEK POLICY
Final examinations are scheduled at the end of each semester and are preceded by pre-finals week, which begins seven days prior to the first day of finals. During pre-finals week, all normal class activities will continue; however, no assignment, test, or examination accounting for more than 5% of the course grade may be given; and no activity or field trip may be scheduled that conflicts with another class. This excludes makeup and laboratory examinations, out-of-class assignments (or projects) made prior to pre-finals week and independent study courses. No student or campus organization may hold meetings, banquets, receptions, or may sponsor or participate in any activity, program, or related function that requires student participation. For additional information, contact the Office of Academic Affairs, 405-744-5627, 101 Whitehurst.

FINAL EXAM OVERLOAD POLICY
In the event you have three or more final exams scheduled for a single day, you are entitled to arrange with the instructor of the highest numbered course (4 digit course number) or two highest, if you have four finals on one day, to re-schedule that examination(s) at a time and place of mutual convenience during final exam week. If the final exam overload includes a common final exam, the common final exam is excluded from rescheduling unless multiple common exams are scheduled at the same time. You should submit this request in writing, with a copy of your class schedule, at least two weeks prior to the beginning of final exam week. The instructor has one week prior to the beginning of final exam week to arrange a mutually convenient time and place for administration of the final exam. After one week, if an agreement cannot be reached, take the request to the department head.

OSU does not discriminate on the basis of sex in its educational programs and activities. Examples of sexual misconduct and/or sex discrimination include: sexual violence, sexual harassment, sexual assault, domestic and intimate partner violence, stalking, or gender-based discrimination. OSU encourages any student who thinks that he or she may have been a victim of sexual misconduct or sexual discrimination to immediately report the incident to the Title IX Coordinator (405-744-9153) or Deputy Title IX Coordinator (405-744-5470). Students may also report incidents of sexual misconduct or sex discrimination to a faculty or staff member, who is then required by federal law (Title IX) to notify the Title IX or Deputy Title IX Coordinator. If a reporting student would like to keep the details confidential, the student may speak with staff in the Student Counseling Center (405-744-5472) or one of the University's Sexual Assault Victim Advocates (Mon-Fri 8 AM-5 PM, 405-564-2129 or 24 Hour Help Line 405-624-3020).

STUDENT DISABILITY SERVICES
According to the Americans with Disabilities Act, each student with a disability is responsible for notifying the University of his/her disability and requesting accommodations. If you think you have a qualified disability and need special accommodations, you should notify the instructor and request verification of eligibility for accommodations from Student Disability Services. Please advise the instructor of your disability as soon as possible, and contact Student Disability Services, to ensure timely implementation of appropriate accommodations. Faculty have an obligation to respond when they receive official notice of a disability but are under no obligation to provide retroactive accommodations. To receive services, you must submit appropriate documentation and complete an intake process to verify the existence of a qualified disability and identify reasonable accommodations.
